

Matusov G.D., Roshchin V.E. Assessment of the state of vegetation of the Polesie State Radiation-Ecological Reserve // Monitoring and assessment of the state of the flora. Materials of the IV international scientific conference. Minsk, September 30 - October 4, 2013.– P. 331-333.

Results of the floristic researches which are carried out by staff of scientific department of ecology of vegetative complexes of the Polesky national radiating and ecological park, on identification of new types of vascular plants and their sites in the reserve territory are presented. Information concerning distribution of vascular plants and the mushrooms included in the Red book of Republic of Belarus is presented. The reserve role in preservation of a biodiversity of flora of the Belarusian Polesye is shown.