

Underwater minibeast top trumps!

Underwater animals have special features that allow them to survive. Some of these features help them find food, some help them escape from their enemies.

Animals can be very different in size, speed, how fierce they are, and how well they can defend themselves.

Create some underwater minibeast top trumps using the attached sheet. You can draw your creatures and give them scores for different features.

Then try playing the game with a friend! How might the different features help each animal survive?
