

Food web puzzle

Scientists use food webs to show where plants and animals get their food, so that they can survive and grow. Can you follow the lines below to find out who eats algae (tiny plants), water fleas, water lice, and dead leaves, in your local pond?

